Subject: Reminder of invitation to attend U.S. Water Partnership Water Data Integration Conference

U.S. WATER PARTNERSHIP

Working together for a water secure world.

The U.S. Water Partnership is pleased to follow up on the invitation to attend the first Water Data Integration Conference at the U.S. Geological Survey.

Water Data Integration Conference
Wednesday, June 19, 2013
8:30 am to 4:30 pm

U.S. Geological Survey
12201 Sunrise Valley Drive
Reston, VA 20192-0002

The conference will bring the U.S. public and private sectors together with international community leaders to begin a discussion about water data, challenges to integration and how to meet those challenges by creating partnerships that address water security across the planet. The conference will also serve as a critical input in meeting the needs requirements of the USWP water web portal. A draft agenda will be available by the end of next week.

If you have yet to do so, please RSVP here. Participants will be responsible for making their own hotel reservations, but a block of rooms has been reserved at three hotels in Reston at a discounted rate. More information on hotel options in Reston and Washington, DC is available here. Transportation will also be available from Union Station to the U.S. Geological Survey campus in Reston and back on the date of the conference. Please indicate if this is needed on the RSVP form.

Please contact Chuck Chaitovitz@getf.org or Kristen Ward@getf.org with any questions.
